Respondeat superior (Latin: "let the master answer"; plural: respondeant superiores) is a doctrine that a party is responsible for (has vicarious liability for) acts of their agents. Law is a system of rules that are created and enforced through social or governmental institutions to regulate behavior. It has been defined both as "the Science of Justice" and "the Art of Justice". *Senior Judge, Oregon Supreme Court (1977-1990); Distinguished Scholar in Residence, Willamette University College of Law. These comments were prepared for the symposium "The Phoenix Rises Again: The Nondelegation Doctrine from Constitutional and Policy Perspectives" held at the Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law on Mar. 19, 1998. The Police Council (Conseil supérieur de la police) is at the top of the structures devised by the new law. The Police Council is composed by the minister responsible for home affairs, the minister responsible for the administration of justice, the head of the General Office (Commissaire général) and his ...
